Continuing Education

Licensees must complete approved continuing education courses, seminars, or conferences within the four year period immediately prior to their license renewal. The specific continuing education course requirements are listed on the Continuing Education Course Verification form (RE 251). Evidence of the completed education must be presented on that form and submitted with the renewal application and appropriate renewal fee. [Refer to On-line Renewals below.]

Proof of Legal Presence

All real estate licensees are required to submit proof that they are legally present in the United States. A proof of legal presence document (i.e. birth certificate, resident alien card, etc.) and a State Public Benefits Statement (RE 205) must be submitted before an original or renewal license will be issued. Please refer to that form for further instructions.

For new license applications, this information must be submitted with the original license application. For existing licensees, this information can be submitted at any time during a licensee's four year license term, but it must be received before a renewal license can be issued. All licensees are encouraged to submit this information as soon as possible to avoid delays at the time of renewal.

If you have submitted proof of citizenship, or permanent resident alien status, since August 1, 1998, you will not be required to submit that information again. If you have only submitted evidence that you are a resident alien with temporary status, you must submit proof of legal presence with each renewal application.

On-line Renewals

Salesperson and broker licensees may renew their license and present their continuing education information on-line through DRE's eLicensing system. For further details go to www.dre.ca.gov.
